Negotiations Proceeding for Taking Over Opera House by Miners

Angus Morrison of U.M.W. of A. Hears Proposals and Will Consult District Executive

Recently several of the old timers among the miners met Angus Morrison, secretary of District 18, U. M. W. A., to talk over the transfer to Coleman Miners' Association of the opera house.

D. Gillespie, secretary of the local union, is quite optimistic as to satisfactory arrangements being made, and the proposal will meet with hearty support from all other local organizations. It will provide a commodious place for concerts, dances, meetings and other gatherings of a public nature. The great handicap in community activities has been the lack of a suitable hall sufficiently large to accommodate several hundred people. Rentals will undoubtedly help to pay a considerable portion of the overhead cost, such as taxes, insurance and repairs, and the putting into use of the hall will be a decided asset to the town.

It is hoped that before long, what has been for some years a "white elephant" will be the centre of activity for many pleasant community affairs.

Snapshots of Old-Timers

Among the old-timers of Coleman Harry W. Clark takes a prominent place. Over 25 years with the International Co., in his office as time keeper, he has come into contact with hundreds of men, as they have passed into the portals of the mine.

His breezy disposition and his ability to "speak like a trooper" need no emphasizing. Many years service, as a sergeant major in the Royal Horse Artillery, in England, India and South Africa, is a record he is rightly proud of, and his favorite author is Rudyard Kipling, whose "Barrack Room Ballads" and "Tales of India" are typical of the life of British soldiers.

Harry and his good wife have seen much progress in the town, and so regular are his comings and goings that many can tell the time of the day when he passes. A 100 per cent loyalist, he can always be depended on to maintain the Constitution against attacks by revolutionists, and when he does let go—well, look out!

The Sun Is Shining.

As the writer sits down before his typewriter to type out this article, bright sunshine, typical of these beautiful Indian summer days on the prairies, is streaming through the window, while there is that invigorating tang in the air which leads one to throw back his head and draw in a lungful. The sun is shining, and in these days when we are all too prone to dwell on the dark side of things, it is well to remember that the sun is still there, shining away as strong as ever, the only difficulty being the clouds that intervene to obscure our vision.

The sun still shines, not only in the actual meaning of the words in the physical world, but in the sense that there is much of brightness and warmth in life itself. Admittedly there are still difficulties ahead for many people, there are very acute problems to be solved, not only by individuals, but by communities and governments. These difficulties must be overcome, and solutions for these problems found, but there is not a very large ray of sunshine indeed in the knowledge that never before in the history of mankind were so many people, including the keenest brains in all countries, devoting their time, their intellects, their energies, to searching out and testing the efficiency of the remedies to be applied. The world knows there is something out of joint somewhere and there is surely comfort and satisfaction in the knowledge that people are not just letting things drift in the hope that something will turn out to be a betterment, but, on the contrary, are tackling the problem from all angles with a view to effecting that betterment and to preventing a recurrence of present difficulties.

Some people, who talk as if they believed the sun had been finally and forever blotted out, keep on circulating pessimistic views to the effect that the moral character of people is breaking down, that they are losing their initiative, that, instead of retaining confidence in themselves and a pride in their own achievements, they are willing to become the mere hirelings of the state. In the prevailing atmosphere of gloom in which men people surround themselves, they see growing up a generation of loafers and criminals. Is this a true picture? If it is, how can one account for such a highly desirable state of things, as reported in the Toronto Globe, that during the recent Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto nearly a million and a half people passed through its gates, and in all that time not one arrest on a major charge was made. As the Globe says this is a remarkable record.

The Globe says further that there were but two fires, and these of no great consequence; further evidence of the commonsense care exercised by dwellers in what for the time being was a great city exposed to the dangers besetting all densely populated urban areas. There is no evidence in those reports that Canadian people are losing their normal grip, inclined to disregard the law and to engage in reckless, irresponsible acts.

The sun is shining. The spirit of helpfulness which rose to great heights during the tragic years of the war still lives in the hearts and minds of our people. It was displayed last year when people in the older sections of Canada shipped trainloads of supplies to assist and comfort their fellow-citizens in the drought-afflicted areas of Saskatchewan. It is being displayed this year within the confines of that Province by a great rallying together of people who have in order that they may give to those who, again this year unfortunately, "have not." It reminds one of the war days when Red Cross branches, Patriotic Fund committees, and other organizations with like objects were organized and active in even the smallest hamlet and rural district, to now read of the organization of voluntary rural relief committees in areas where there are crops, albeit not very profitable, to assist the people in the smaller area where, again this year, there have been no crops.

The sun is shining in the hearts of those who are building up and supporting these voluntary relief committees, and the sun will be shining in the hearts to which such aid is extended.

And the clouds are growing thin and lifting. Every now and then a ray of sun flickers through because it has never ceased shining. The clouds will finally break and disappear, and the sun burst forth in all its splendour and life-giving warmth. Despite all our discouragements, let us keep our courage, just as we are, as a people, clinging steadfastly to our old-time concepts of honesty, morality, industry and respect for the laws and institutions of our country.

French Tacking To Tea

Coutons Reports Show Imports Doubled In Two Years

People of France, long noted for its wines, are taking to tea. Coutons reports show that in the last two years imports of tea have doubled. Moreover, the leaves for the beverage, which formerly came through England, now are shipped direct from India and Ceylon to Marseilles, Havre and Bordeaux. Experts say the change is the result of the importation of better tea, and the teaching of how to get best results in using the hard Paris water in tea making.

Dickens' Books Popular

Demand For Works Exceeds Supply Says London Librarian

The man who made Christmas—Charles Dickens—is as popular as ever among book-lovers. A London librarian, discussing what the public demand, has revealed that Dickens' works are demanded more frequently than they can be supplied. Scott, however, seems to be out of favor. Dickens also figures in a list of the thirteen books most widely read by people over twelve in another public library. It includes "David Copperfield" and "The Old Curiosity Shop." Boys also stick to the old favorites, but they actually prefer books in which the flavor of adventure is stronger. "Robinson Crusoe," "King Solomon's Mines," "The Swiss Family Robinson," and "Treasure Island" are well up on the list. But, of course, certain of the classics are prescribed by teachers for home reading, and that may boost up the demand for them.

Australian Pleased With Radio System

It Is Nationally Owned and Working Well Says Bruce

Australia's nationally-owned radio system, now controlled by a commission of five, is working well, Rt. Hon. Stanley M. Bruce stated at Ottawa after the Imperial Conference. The leader of the Australian delegation expressed interest in the national broadcasting commission to be appointed to supervise Canadian radio. Mr. Bruce stressed importance of selecting qualified commissioners and said the entire Australian supervisory body had been chosen because of cultural background, business efficiency and general sympathy with important public movements. "Be sure you do not let politics play a part in the selection," he advised. "I do not think any of the Australian commission members were ever mixed up in politics," Mr. Bruce said. Great interest and considerable satisfaction had been expressed with regard to the Australian commission, which acts in an advisory capacity and as a court of final appeal, but does not do the executive work. The commissioners are part-time workers and receive a remuneration of 1400 each annually, with 5500 for the chairman.

Law Bans Shooting Ducks At Churchill

Port Still Under Construction and No Firearms Allowed

While sportsmen in northern Manitoba banged away at the mallards and teal as they flew south, the hunters of Churchill had to sit idly by and watch the birds enjoy the peace and quietude of the closed season. Churchill is still "under construction" and the law says that no firearms are allowed in the camp.

There were hundreds of ducks right in camp. They fed on the grain that scatters from box cars and found choice morsels of vegetation in the sloughs around the camp. They were quite tame, having been fed for weeks by the workmen.

Trappers who arrived from along the west coast stated that ducks and geese flew from the sloughs in thousands a few miles east.

The ducks in this district are chiefly pintails and mallards, with a few teal. To the north and east and west there are large numbers of Pacific elders. They are protected the year round so the Eskimos will not run short of food.

Prefers North Country

Woman Very Eager To Get Back To Alaska

It's nothing to drive forty miles to a dance in the north country, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh of Iditarod, Alaska, who has been visiting her children at Vancouver.

"The dances are the big social event up north," said Mrs. Marsh. "I've never missed one of them since going up there twenty years ago."

Mrs. Marsh says she never thinks of the cold in the Arctic country. Winter is coming on now, but she is eager to be back in the land where the ground is covered with ice and snow most of the year.

After several years at Wrangell, Mrs. Marsh went to Fairbanks by train and then 500 miles by dog sled and sloop over the lofty Rafter Pass to McGrath at the head of navigation on the mighty Kuskokwim River. For thirteen years she has been living at or near McGrath. She looks after the men's laundry and keeps a store.

Had Dual Personality

Amazing Story About British Officer Has Been Revealed

As an officer in the British army during the world war, he was stripped of his rank, degraded before the men he had commanded and sentenced by court-martial to be shot for cowardice.

As a private in the French army, going through the worst fighting around Verdun, he was promoted on the field for courage and decorated afterwards by Marshal Foch, who described him as the "bravest man I have ever known."

That is the amazing story of a dual personality which has been revealed for the first time by French government department.

This coward-honour, an Englishman by birth, was 19 when the war broke out. He was working in France, and hurried home to join an English regiment.

Shortly after his arrival on the French front he was involved in an affair resulting in his being charged and convicted of cowardice. On the night fixed for the execution the man, who was known as Potter, managed to escape, and was hidden for some weeks by a French woman.

The hue and cry for him eventually died down, but apparently driven by remorse, he joined the foreign legion, claiming to be an Alsatian. He gave his name as "Henry Mayer." Because he spoke perfect French he was able to get away with it.

"Mayer" won the rank of captain, was wounded seven times, and has been mentioned numerous times for conspicuous bravery.

Recently his real identity was discovered by the French police, but it was his own government in view of the extraordinary circumstances.

Wood Regains World's Speedboat Record

American Pilot Averaged over 124 Miles An Hour

Gar Wood regained the world's speedboat record by sending his "Miss America X" catapulting twice over a measured mile on the St. Clair River at Algonac, Mich., at an average speed of 124.91 statute miles an hour. The former record, 119.75 miles an hour, was made on Loch Lomond, Scotland, July 15 last, by Kaye Don, British speedboat pilot, who tried unsuccessfully to wrest the Harmsworth trophy from Wood.

Wood, after the record-breaking run, said "Miss America" four 12-cylinder engines had not been wide open in the effort and he thought the big, mahogany-hulled thunderbolt could go faster. "How much faster, I can't say," he said. "The motors were making 2,500 revolutions per minute. Their limit, with safety, is 2,700 revolutions per minute."

Saskatchewan leads all the provinces of the Dominion in highway mileage, with 155,609 miles open for traffic on December 31, 1931, according to a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Russians Cannot Send Food Through Mails

Attempts To Relieve Famine Discouraged By Soviet

Henceforth bread, flour, cereals, seed oils and other foodstuffs are to be barred from the mails, the post office announced.

It is hoped in this way to stop the voluntary and individual attempts to relieve famine which prevails in many provincial districts.

In the past half-year and more, the shortage of food has become so serious throughout large areas of the Soviet Union that desperate methods of obtaining bread have been resorted to. Moscow and, to a lesser degree, other large cities have been jammed with peasants without their last odds and ends of valuables for bread.

The stations swarm with peasants, each staggering under a heavy sack full of bread, bound back to the provinces and the farms.

Much food has also found its way through the mails, Friends and relatives in the capital have endeavored to relieve the suffering of their dear ones by occasional shipments of food. Food has not been plentiful in Moscow, but agile dodging about and discreet speculating has enabled many to accumulate a few loaves extra or a few pounds of meat of some sort.

Now this channel has been plugged. Peasants will henceforth either have to attempt to get aboard already hopelessly overcrowded trains for a personal visit to Moscow—or starve.

Although the trunks of the trees are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only one foot. No tree bears more than two leaves, which attain a length of six feet and breadth of two feet. The forest covers a tableland six miles in width.

In earlier days on the earth, there were dinosaurs that had a wing spread of two feet.

Twelve hundred and fifty American tourists landed in England during a recent weekend.

Sinking Of "Bright Fan" Student Flyer's Death First Accident Since Opening Of H. B. Route

Ottawa, Ont.—The rescued crew of the British steamer "Bright Fan" Sunday night, Oct. 2, were still aboard the government patrol boat "N. B. McLean" anchored in Wakeham Bay on Hudson Strait. But Captain Oliver, whose vessel met disaster early Saturday morning, Oct. 1, in the middle of Hudson Strait, expects to leave with his 30 seamen for Churchill Monday, Oct. 3, and then by rail to Winnipeg. If plans materialize, the crew will be in Churchill on Friday or Saturday, Oct. 7 or 8.

Bound for Churchill for a cargo of grain the S.S. "Pennisia," Barry, England, is due to arrive in Wakeham Bay district some time Monday, Oct. 3. Wireless communication from the "N. B. McLean" will probably make final arrangements to place the shipwrecked crew aboard the incoming vessel. The radio branch of the department of marine is in touch with the government patrol boat.

While no official announcement has been given, an official inquiry very likely will be held with Captain Oliver and his crew testifying.

Probably Captain Bailem of the "N. B. McLean," which picked up the crew, also will give evidence.

Six days out from Churchill en route to England with a cargo of 250,000 bushels of grain, the "Bright Fan" struck an iceberg on Saturday, October 1, at 4:30 a.m. eastern standard time.

Flowing through the northern waters, the vessel was then about 18 miles northeast of Wales Island. Three hours later she sank. Her captain and entire crew were picked up at 9:15 a.m. by the "N. B. McLean." Answering S.O.S. calls, the patrol boat sighted the "Bright Fan" before she sank.

The accident was the first since the official opening of the port of Churchill last year.

Owned by the Fancott Shipping Co., Cardiff, Wales, the "Bright Fan" was of 2,357 tons net and steel built.

Have Faith In League

French Premier and Viscount Cecil Come To Its Defence

Geneva, Switzerland.—France refuses to share the pessimism and skepticism which is now being directed at the League of Nations, Premier Edouard Herriot of France, told the league assembly.

Viscount Cecil, British representative, also came to the league's defence, declaring the existing troubles between Bolivia and Paraguay over the Chaco and the difficulties in the Far East would never have developed if each party to each dispute had applied faithfully the principles of the covenant.

"If disarmament is not achieved," he said, "the situation will be far worse than it was before the war. The nations must disarm or perish."

Protest From Veterans

Calgary, Alberta.—Alberta command of the Canadian Legion is making strong protests to the Dominion Government because a civilian secured the postmasters' post at Canmore, about 60 miles west of Calgary. S. G. Pettie, Alberta secretary of the legion, stated an ex-serviceman, W. G. Jones, was given the appointment at first but later was turned down in favor of a civilian.

New Moderator Elected

Dr. T. A. Moore Appointed Head Of United Church

Hamilton, Ont.—Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, Toronto, secretary to the general council of the United Church of Canada, was elected sixth moderator of the church by the general council in session here.

The election was contested by Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts, pastor of Sherbourne Street United Church, Toronto, and by Rev. Dr. W. L. Armstrong, Trinity United Church, Toronto.

Secretary to the general council of the church since the union, Rev. Dr. Moore was for many years previously an outstanding figure in the Methodist Church.

A native of Acton, Ont., he began his career as a printer and publisher there. Turning to the ministry he was ordained in 1884 after completing his studies at Wesleyan College, Montreal.

Inquiry Board At Work

Unfolding Mystery Of Loss Suffered By Manitoba University

Winnipeg, Man.—A board of inquiry is slowly unfolding the mystery which envelops the loss of nearly $1,000,000 in endowment funds of the University of Manitoba.

Less than five hours' investigation by the board revealed that books of the university had not been completely audited in the last eight years, that no report had been tendered as to the condition of investments; that the board of governors had failed to comply with the statutes of the institution; and that John A. Macphay acted as both chairman of the governors and bursar, contrary to the University act.

Pension Plan For Postmasters

Would Affect Only Those Receiving Under $3,000 Annually

Montreal, Que.—At the opening session of the first annual convention of the Canadian Postmasters' Association, Quebec branch, C. D. Griffith, Estevan, Sask., outlined a superannuation plan for postmasters, which had been drawn up by a committee, of which he was a member, appointed by Hon. Arthur Sauve, Postmaster-General. The plan provided for contributions to annuity funds to be made, half by the government and half by the postmasters. It would affect only those postmasters receiving under $3,000 annually, as those who receive more would come under the civil service pension scheme.

New Service Started

Montreal, Que.—Regular sailings between Montreal and British Columbia will be made by vessels of the Vancouver-St. Lawrence line, commencing October 12, it is announced. The Forresterbank will inaugurate the service, sailing for Victoria and Vancouver from Montreal.

Laborers' Pay Raised

Winnipeg, Man.—City council has made its first upward pay revision. A motion to increase wages of common laborers from 40 to 42½ cents an hour was passed by council on a vote of nine to eight.

Parachute Used By Winters Properly Packed Stated Instructor

North Battleford.—After brief deliberation, the jury inquiring into the death of Charles J. Winters, Wilkie flying student, who crashed to his death when his parachute failed to open, returned a verdict of accidental death. No riders were included in the verdict.

Chief evidence was heard from George Bennett, R.C.A.F. instructor who has been instructing flying club students in the art of parachuting. Bennett told the court he had made 1,098 jumps during his career and in only one instance had it been necessary to use the emergency chute. He had trained between 350 to 400 students, he stated. He voiced the opinion that Winters had taken off from the wing of the plane in a somewhat awkward and had become entangled in the harness, causing the chute to stay closed. He stated definitely that the parachute was properly packed.

King Pledges Party To Lower Barriers

Liberal Leader Claims High Tariffs Stifle Trade

Exeter, Ont.—Declaring the development of Canadian industry and commerce had been thwarted and to a large measure paralyzed by the "excessively high tariffs, enacted by the present administration," Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, pledged his party to continue to seek the promotion of trade by the lowering of tariff barriers. Speaking on behalf of W. H. Golding, Liberal candidate in the South Huron by-election which wound up with polling on October 3, Mr. King strongly criticized what he termed attempts of government spokesmen to make the imperial economic conference the issue in the contest.

Good Market In Ontario

Would Buy Alberta Coal If Freight Rate Lower

Ottawa, Ont.—With a $5 freight rate to Ontario, Alberta coal could capture a market of from 300,000 to 400,000 tons more than is now being sold here. This was the contention of Alberta in the hearing before the railway commission.

The hearing was in connection with fixing the out-of-pocket cost to the railways in the coal movement from Alberta to Ontario in 1931. At present the shipper pays a rate of $6.75 a ton and the difference between that and the amount the railways receive is made up by the Dominion Government. Last year that difference was $2.22. The board reserved judgment.

Train Schedule Now Eliminates Long Stop

C.N.R. Continental Limited Has No Lay-Over At Winnipeg

Montreal, Que.—Eliminating the present 10-hour lay-over at Winnipeg, the new schedule of the Continental Limited between Montreal and Vancouver became effective with the departure of that train from Montreal and Toronto on the night of Friday, Sept. 30, it was announced by the Canadian National Railways.

The new schedule became effective southbound from Vancouver on Saturday, October 1, and eliminates a 10-hour lay-over at Winnipeg.

Attempt Assassination Of Calcutta Editor

Two Men Commit Suicide After Plan Failed

Calcutta, India.—Two men committed suicide by poison after failing in an attempt to assassinate Sir Alfred Watson, editor of the Statesman, a daily newspaper.

Sir Alfred was shot in both shoulders as he was motoring in the Mall, a large park-like area in the heart of Calcutta. A third member of the group that tried to kill him escaped. Police found the automobile they used abandoned outside the city.

One of the bullets struck his chauffeur, who was seriously wounded, and another grazed the hand of Mrs. Rose Grose, his secretary.

Frequent threats against the life of Sir Alfred have been made by extremists who objected to the policies of his newspaper. Last August an attempt was made to kill him, but he escaped unharmed.

Opens New Museum

Hon. J. F. Bryant Officially At Ceremony In Prince Albert

Prince Albert.—Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works, officially opened the new Prince Albert historical museum in Bryant Park.

The building which will house the historical relics is one of the first structures to have been built here. It was erected by Rev. James Nisbet and members of his party who landed here in 1886. For years it stood, gradually rotting away, until last year it was taken down and rebuilt in the park which is named after Mr. Bryant's father, a former resident here.

Increase In Deportations

To Countries Other Than British Empire and United States

Ottawa, Ont.—During the fiscal year 1931-1932 which ended March 31, 1932, the number of deportations from Canada to countries other than the British Empire or the United States increased over those of the preceding year by 152 per cent.

A more moderate jump of 37 per cent in the number of British deportations was recorded. Of the total deportations, numbering 7,025 in the last fiscal year, no fewer than 4,507 of those deported were sent out of Canada because they became public charges.

GLORIA'S HUSBY IN FILM DEBUT

Photographed in a little corner of England's Hollywood, just outside London, England, Gloria Swanson (extreme right) is shown casting a critical eye on a scene in which her husband, Michael Farmer, is acting with Genevieve Tobin before the movie camera. It was Farmer's first experience as an actor and he appears in the picture as Miss Tobin's husband.

Charge Of Snowden That Free Trade Door "Barred," Refuted By Baldwin

Harvest Hands Will Become Hitch Hikers

Plan To Request Hides If Ejected From Freight

Calgary, Alberta.—Police officers in western Canada are faced with a hectic time this fall if the declarations from harvest hands in Alberta mean anything.

Hundreds of the harvesters deserted wheat fields in an effort to obtain rides on freight trains to their homes before the ban on this mode of travel went into effect September 30. Others, however, declare they will remain in the harvest fields until the work is ended, then flood the highways, demanding free transportation from motorists if they are ejected from the freight.

The men claim they have insufficient money, due to low wages, to buy transportation, and are determined to secure free transportation homeward in some manner.

The Dominion Government ban on "rod riding" has created discontent in harvest camps throughout the west. The men believe they will be able to "hop the freights" in the smaller towns because they figure on the Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen, the only officer usually stationed at smaller points, will be unable to cope with 40 or 50 men seeking freight train rides.

Planes Damaged By Storms In North

Aviators Carrying Supplies To Sub-Arctic Have Hard Time

Churchill, Man.—Fierce gales which lashed the rock-bound shores of Hudson Bay, and heavy fogs which made visibility difficult and delayed grain boats bound for this port, played havoc with the three Canadian Airways Junkers' planes, freighting from Eskimo Point to northern outposts, it was learned here.

The "Jus," heavy freighter, sustained serious damage to the pontoons and another of the Junker's planes may be out of commission for months.

During the past months misfortunes have dogged the footsteps of aviators freighting in supplies to lonely settlements in the sub-arctic barrens, and fears are now entertained that food supplies may be running low at some points.

Lumber Business Poor

Calgary, Alberta.—The prairie lumber industry faces the poorest year in its history unless an unexpected boom occurs during the next few months. E. J. Poole, secretary of the Mountain Manufacturing Sales Limited, declared the lumber business on the prairies was dead. Because of the tariff, he added, trade with the United States was practically impossible.

King George Lowers Rents

London, England.—His Majesty has reduced by 20 per cent the rents for allotments of the Sandringham estate. A year ago the King took over the adjoining 1,200-acre farm when no new tenant was forthcoming and it will now be used by 60 workmen who will hold their allotments by tenancies let by the king personally at $4 an acre.

London, England.—Charges by Viscount Snowden that the government was carrying out a partisan program, which it knew was "opposed by a large section of the electorate," brought a brisk reply from Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council and Lord Privy Seal.

"The Imperial Conference at Ottawa lowered tariffs, and introduced the principle of reasonable, not prohibitive, tariff schedules," contended Mr. Baldwin, in prompt rebuff to the retired and Privy Seal. The Conservative leader thought it rather anomalous that a member of the Australian Government, Hon. E. W. Hawker, Minister of Markets and Transport, should resign because the Ottawa conference had made tariffs too low, and three members of the British cabinet had resigned because the tariffs had been raised too high.

This brief interchange of opinion between the Lord President of the Council and the man who led the free trade members of the cabinet out, was the chief development in the situation which is attracting widespread interest.

Viscount Snowden declared the conference at Ottawa had "hanged, bolted, and barred the door of hope for greater freedom of trade throughout the world," and contended, when the full details of the agreements were known, "they will expose the hollowness of the claim that the country gained any substantial reductions of Dominion tariffs."

Cruisers Carry Aid To Earthquake Victims

Sufferers In Greece Welcome Food And Medical Supplies

Athens, Greece.—Arrival of five cruisers of the British eastern Mediterranean Fleet, with food and medical supplies for relief of sufferers from the earthquakes that have shaken Greece, was hailed here with great public demonstrations.

In the meantime the quakes continued and it was feared the casualties would be greater than originally supposed. The number of dead was placed at 200 and the injured at 400. In parts the ground sank eight feet during the main earthquake.

New Gold Find Reported

Engineers Consider Discovery In Beaver Lake District Important

The Pas, Man.—What engineers consider an important new gold discovery is reported to have been made in the Beaver Lake district of northern Saskatchewan, just over the Manitoba border, west of here.

Samples of quartz porphyry reaching here are said to be heavy in gold, and 40 men are already working in the neighborhood with prospects of continuing the work throughout the fall and winter.

Only Three Survived

Seattle.—Pieces of the battered bulk of the freighter "Nevada," pounded on a rocky Aleutian island, where 34 members of her crew were drowned by stormy seas. Only three men survived—saved by their own strength and daring and the heroism of lifeboat crews from two rescue ships.

United States Receives Notice Germany's Debt Payment Is Postponed

Washington.—Germany formally notified the United States that she would have to postpone the $7,800,000 payment which fell due under its debt funding agreement, September 30.

In announcing the postponement, the U.S. Treasury Department disclosed that on application by the German ambassador three months ago, he had waived the 90-day notice of intention required for such action. Provision for waiver on the part of the United States was written into the funding treaty.

Mills said inability to obtain the necessary foreign exchange was the reason given by Germany for the postponement.

The payment due under the mixed claims section of the funding agreement amounts to $4,800,000, and is postponed for two years at 5 per cent. The American army of occupation costs, accounting for the balance, are postponed two and one-half years and carry interest at 3½ per cent.

The secretary said no similar action has arisen with any of the other debtor nations which altogether must meet payments of $123,500,000 on December 15, unless action is taken to postpone them. The action of Germany makes a total of $9,052,000 in debt payments postponed this year.

Estonia, Latvia and Poland served notice on September 15 that they would be unable to make payments of $1,252,000 due on December 15.

Alberta Town Proves Adoption Of Script Plan Was Excellent Business

Calgary, Alberta.—By enabling citizens of Raymond to pay off more tax arrears than ever before in the town's history, the bold experiment of the council in issuing script in payment of local indebtedness has been brilliantly vindicated.

Reports show a remarkable increase in tax payments of $11,000, increased business tax receipts of $3,200, higher water collections and improved receipts in all departments.

The town has also been enabled to pay its debt to the railway because, no money is owed the bank on current borrowings for town finance, and in addition the council has been able to reduce borrowings of 1931 by several thousand dollars.

Faced by acute financial problems at the beginning of the present year the revolutionary step of issuing its own script on the security of the unpaid taxes of the district was undertaken by the council in face of considerable opposition. Warrants were issued in payment by the town to citizens for services of various kinds and tradesmen in the district gave their willing co-operation to the scheme by accepting the script at its face value.

All the script was guaranteed redeemable in cash on January 15, 1933, or it could be used at any time in payment of rates and taxes.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

To upset constituted authority throughout the world is the avowed revolutionary aim of the Communist party. Federal, provincial and right down to the smallest town council this insidious policy is carried on, under the guise of fighting for the workers. Even the property rights of workers would be sacrificed to this policy. There is abundant evidence to substantiate it, in every country where the agents of the party are under cover, and openly where they can flout the law.

The several months strike in the Crows Nest Pass was carried on not primarily to fight for the miners, but to furnish propaganda on which to base appeals to workers throughout Canada. Coal mining camps with their spasmodic employment furnish fertile grounds to foment insurrection, and the miners union was but a tool in the hands of the Communist agents. They used it to suit their well-laid plans which were calculated to place the mining companies completely in their power. Demands were made which they knew were impossible of being granted, the same as demands are being made on governments and local councils. It is not settlement which they want; it is revolution, and the person who treats these demands with indifference is "asleep at the switch."

A severe jolt to the Communist agents and their followers in the Crows Nest Pass was the organization of the Citizens' League. It immediately became a target for vile abuse, because they saw in it an instrument which would expose their underground methods to promote the policies and ideals of Sovietism. The "Red" movement here did not originate with the workers of the Pass coal mines. It was started by rank outsiders who gained a foot-hold through the M. W. U. of C.

Citizens and workers who value their possessions which have been obtained by long years of toil and thrift should be on the alert to combat the destructive tactics of the Workers Unity League. In Russia the small peasant farmer, owning his land, was persecuted in order to coerce him into collective farming. The W. U. L. draft constitution states: "The Workers Unity League of Canada is the Canadian section of the Red International of Labor Unionism, pledged to a program of revolutionary struggle for the complete overthrow of Capitalism and the setting up of the state power of the workers and poor farmers through a Workers' and Farmers' government."

This policy would force the workers into a condition of state servitude. In Russia it is an experiment being carried on, the results of which have yet to be proved, and concerning which many adverse reports are made by people who have experienced conditions there.

To promote this policy among workers in Canadian industrial centres, Communist agents, gathering under their red banners many dupes, have tried by intimidation to upset authority by riots, defiance and inviting attacks whereby they may pose as martyrs to their cause and so excite sympathy. To be hit on the head by a policeman's baton, to be fired at as at Estevan, to have people killed, this has been the program carefully plotted and in many cases fulfilled to schedule, and those who by their rash acts may have been killed or injured are inscribed as heroes on the Communist roll of fame. The evidence of the past two years proves that the workers will be ruthlessly sacrificed if necessary to promote such a doctrine. As of old human sacrifices were made on the altars dedicated to unseen powers, so to-day we see a party willing to sacrifice the lives of workers to further the political ideals of those who would secure the reins of governmental power by bloody revolution.

Weekly newspaper exchanges present fairly accurate mirrors of the towns in which they are published. Store advertisements, local news, activities of various organizations, indicate if the town is up and doing. The weekly paper reflects as a mirror. If the town is dead, the local newspaper will try and convey the impression it is alive, but it is a difficult task at times. But like the horse-fly, you cannot be fooled by appearances. It is the real goods that count and you must have energy and initiative if your business or town is to be classed among the live go-getters. The people who get the business are those who know how to use publicity to the utmost advantage.

This is a testing time for businesses of all kinds, and the old law of the survival of the fittest will prevail. Some will go to the wall; others will emerge stronger for having passed through the ordeal. You cannot keep a good man down, but the inefficient will be brushed aside. It depends on your nerve, your attitude in grappling with individual problems, as to how you will weather trials.

NO MATTER to which church you may belong, everyone has a moral obligation to his or her church to support it. Taxes are paid, lodge dues are paid, many other things are paid; but with the great majority the Church is grudgingly given very little of what may be left.

Why Towns Are Different

By Bruce B. Brewer, Vice Pres.,
Ferry-Hanly Advertising Company

In going over the names of some towns the other day with a sales manager, he would frequently say, almost spitefully, "That town is no good."

I finally became curious and asked how he judged towns.

"Well," he replied, "I have always wondered why some towns are good for us and some are poor. On the train one day I got into conversation with a stranger. I was getting off at a certain town, and when I mentioned its name he said, 'That's a good town for us.' I thought that was strange, for our merchant accounts could sell very little of our goods there. So I asked him what was his business, and why the town was so good for his line.

"He replied that he was a mail order man, and he told me how they pick towns which they circulate heavily. In a manner unknown to the newspapers, they regularly secretly buy copies of all the newspapers throughout the territory. If they find the local merchants are not advertising heavily, they put that town on their preferred list.

"I began observing towns myself then. Are the merchants good advertisers, or not? That's a pretty good way for me to tell if the merchants in that town can sell our line."

This was all a new slant for me, but I can see the logic of it. And merchants have a big advantage, for they advertise in the best read publication there is, the weekly newspaper. Read from cover to cover by everyone in the territory, it assures the merchant his advertising will also be read. No other type of publication is so new, so close to its readers, as the weekly newspaper—Hanna Herald.

The newspaper was rated the supreme medium for retail store advertising at a meeting at general headquarters of Sears, Roebuck and company, at which time a comprehensive advertising policy was written and ratified by a group of district managers, store managers, sales and advertising managers and National officials. M. C. Penticoff, Michigan district manager, reported that Sears' expenditures for newspaper advertising in 1930 were $5,597,088 whereas, in 1931 they jumped to $7,007,068, an increase of $1,409,980, or more than 25 per cent. "Although we do not believe the efficiency of other media, our experience has taught us that the newspaper is supreme for advertising retail stores," he said. —Exchange.

The trip solo trans-Atlantic flyer was promised a quiet time on his trip by Captain Latta, commander of the Empress.

"I am not running away from the election. I am out of politics and have no vote in the district of Columbia," said Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the famous United States war-time President, interviewed at the Banff Springs Hotel recently, where she stopped en route to Tokyo where she is attending the marriage of a family connection. Mrs. Wilson motored on to Chateau Lake Louise as part of her tour of the Canadian Rockies.

"I have never seen a more beautiful country or enjoyed a visit more," said Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, as he said farewell to British Columbia when boarding the Canadian Pacific Imperial Limited on his way to Calgary. He enjoyed his favorite sport, fishing, in that province, where he and his party took four fine fish, including a 17-pound salmon. (669)

"Rest?" she said, "Rest? Do you realize that I shall have all the remainder of life to—rest in? There'll be nothing else to do."

She released herself very gently from Tormarin's arms and, crossing the room to the window, stood looking out.

"How funny!" she said in a rather high-pitched uncertain voice. "It all looks just the same—although everything in the world is changed."

He came and stood by her side.

"No," he said quietly. "Nothing is changed, dear. Our love is the same as it was before. Always remember that."

"But we can't ever marry now."

"No. We can't marry—now. You'll never have the Tormarin trend to bear with, after all."

She laid her hand swiftly across his lips.

"Oh, it was dreadful!" she said, recalling the terrible scene which she had interrupted. "It—it hardly seemed—us, Blaise."

"For the moment it wasn't. It was the Tormarin devil—the curse of every generation. But I think that Varigny woman could turn a saint into a devil if she tried! She said something about you—and I couldn't stand it."

"Was that it? Then I suppose I shall have to forgive you"—with a pale little attempt at a smile.

But the half-smiled smile faded again almost instantly.

"Oh, Blaise, what would your temper matter if we could still be together?"

er?" she cried passionately. "Nothing in the wide world would matter then!"

Presently she spoke again.

"But it's worse for you than for me. I wish it were more equal."

"How worse for me? I don't understand. Unless—with a brief, and smile—"you love me less?"

"Ah, you know I don't mean that! But I've only the separation to face. I'm not tied to somebody I don't love."

"You've got Nesta to consider."

"Nesta?" He gave a short, grim laugh. "Nesta can go back to where she came from."

There was a long silence. At last Jean broke it.

"Blaise, you can't do that—you can't send her away again," she said in quick, low tones. "She's your wife."

"My wife! She seems to have been oblivious of the fact—and to have wished me to be equally oblivious of it—for the last few years."

"Nesta? Of course she was wrong—wickedly wrong. But that doesn't alter the fact that she's your responsibility, Blaise. You must take her back."

"Take her back?"—violently. "I'll be shot if I do. She's chosen to live her life without me for the last few years—she can continue to do so."

Jean laid her hand on his arm. She was smiling wistfully.

"Dear, you'll have to take her back," she persisted gently. "Don't you see—she's not wholly to blame? You've admitted that. You've blamed yourself in a large measure for her running away. It's up to you now to put things straight, to—to give her the chance she didn't have before."

"You're discounting these last few years," he returned gravely. "These years in which she has lived a life, almost to believe her life—cheating and deceiving me as no man was ever cheated before. She's cheated me out of my happiness—heavily—"taken from me!"

"Take her back?"—violently. "I'll be shot if I do. She's chosen to live her life without me for the last few years—she can continue to do so."

"Yes, I know," Jean's voice quavered, but she steeled it again. "But even in that, she was not solely to blame. You've told me how—how weak she is and easily led away. And she's very young. What chance would Nesta have of asserting her will against her sister's, even had she wished to return to you? She ran away from Staple in a fit of temper and because you had frightened her. After that—you can see for yourself—Madame de Varigny is responsible for everything that has happened since."

Tormarin remained silent. The quiet justice of Jean's summing up of the situation struck at him hard.

She waited a moment, then added quietly:

"You must take her back, Blaise."

He wheeled round on her violently.

"And you?" he exclaimed. "You? Did you ever love me, Jean, that you can talk so coolly about turning me over to another woman?"

She whitened at the bitter accusation in his tones, but she did not flinch.

"It's just because I love you, Blaise, that I want you to do this thing—to do the only thing that is worthy of you. Oh, my dear, my dear!"—her hands went out to him in sudden helpless pleading—"do you think it's easy for me to ask it?"

"The desolate cry pierced him. He caught her in his arms, kissing her fiercely, adoringly.

"Sweetheart! . . . Forgive me! I'm half mad, I think. Beloved, say that you forgive me!"

She leaned against him, glad to feel the straining clasp of his arms about her—to rest once more in her place against his heart.

"Dearest of all," she said tremulously, "there is no question of forgiveness between us two. There never will be. We're just—both of us—struggling in the dark, and there's only duty"—brokenly—"only duty—to hold to."

They stood together in silence, comforted just a little by the mere human touch of each other in this communion of sorrow which had and must come upon them, yet knowing in their hearts that this was the very comfort that must for ever be denied them in the lonely future.

At last Jean raised her head from his resting-place and her eyes searched Blaise's face, asking the question she could no longer bring herself to put in words. He met their gaze.

"Jean, is it your wish I do this thing—take Nesta back?"

He felt a shudder run through her frame. Twice she tried nervously to answer. At last she forced her dry lips to utter an affirmative.

"So be it," he said.

His answer sounded in her ears like the knell to the whole meaning of life. The future was settled. Henceforth their lives must lie apart.

"So be it," said Blaise. "She shall come back and take her place again at Staple."

Jean clung to him a little closer.

"Blaise, beloved—I know the harder part will be yours. But mine won't be easy, dear. I shall go to Charnwood as with Claire at once—tomorrow—and it won't be easy, when I see—" and it wasn't easy, when I see—Staple, to know that you two are within, shut in from the world outside your life and your love."

"You'll never be outside my love," he said swiftly. "No other woman shall rob you of one jot or tittle of it, were she my wife twenty times over. I will bring Nesta back to Staple, and she shall bear my name and live as my wife in the eyes of the world. But my love—that is yours, utterly and entirely. Yours and no other's."

She lifted her face to his, and their lips met in a kiss that was a seal of love and all love's faithfulness.

"So is mine yours," she said. "Now and forever, in this world and the next."

Oh, Blaise—beloved!—she clung to him in a passion of love and anguish and straining belief—"Some day, surely, in that other world, God will give us freedom to take our happiness!"

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The Returning Tide

Two months had elapsed since Fate's dividing sword had fallen, for ever separating Jean from the man she loved, and the subsequent march of events, with the many changes involved and the bitter loneliness of soul entailed, had made the two months seem to her more like two years.

She had left Staple for Charnwood on the day following that of Madame de Varigny's visit. It was no longer possible for her to remain under the same roof with Blaise, where the enforced strain of meeting each other daily, and of endeavouring to behave as though nothing more than mere commonplace friendship linked them together, would have been too great for either of them to endure even for the few remaining days which still intervened before the date originally planned for her departure.

She watched with anxious eyes the progress of events at Staple. At the commencement of the new regime Nesta had appeared genuinely repentant and ashamed of her conduct in the past, and there was something disarming in the little, half-apologetic air with which she had at first reassumed her position of chaste mistress of Staple, deferring eagerly to Blaise on every point and trying her utmost to please him and conform to his wishes. It held something of the appeal of a forgiven child who tries to atone for former naughtiness by an almost alarming excess of virtue.

She accepted with meek docility Blaise's decision regarding the purely formal relations upon which their married life was henceforth to be based, apparently humbly thankful to be reinstated as his wife on any terms whatsoever that he chose to dictate.

"I know I have been bad—bad," she declared, to run away and leave you like that, I can't—forcibly—"hope for you to love me again—"

And Tormarin had replied with unmistakable decision:

"No, you can't hope for that. And I'm glad you understand and recognize the fact. Still, we can try to be good friends, Nesta, at least."

Blaise tried hard to exercise forbearance with her and to treat her, at least with justice and with a certain meed of kindness. But she did not second his efforts. Instead, she became more exigent and difficult as time passed on.

"I know why you no longer love me," she told him at last, on an occasion when she had been vainly endeavouring, by every feminine blandishment and wile of which she was mistress, to evoke from him some sign of an awakening "tendresse."

"I know!"

She nodded her dark head significantly, while pin-points of jealous anger flickered in her long, narrow eyes, black as midnight.

"Then, if you know," replied Tormarin patiently, "it is surely most foolish of you to keep asking why I do not. Why can't you content yourself with things as they are, Nesta? We can only try to make the best of a bad job. You don't help me much in the matter."

"I don't want to help you," she replied.

got a very good catch for this time of the season.

Handsome mantel clocks were presented by the Caledonian Society, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Park and Mr. and Mrs. Hibbert, in honor of their recent marriages. The presentation, on behalf of the Caledonian Society, was made by Rev.

the K. of P. hall on Sept. 23

Mr. Gresham, jr., of Okotoks, who is relieving Mr. Corbett in the Customs office at Blairmore, sang a solo at St. Alban's church on Sunday evening, entitled: "The Lord is My Shepherd." He has a very pleasing voice and the selection was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Clifford played the accompaniment.

The hill leading from the Emmerson and Graham residences to the Anglican church has been the scene of many a slip and slide in the winter. It has been made safer by steps being cut and a hand-rail erected; a convenience greatly appreciated. Archie Beveridge has also made steps from the rear of his property to the miners' path leading past the tennis courts, which makes the walk to Sixth street very much easier for those whom the exertion leaves puffing and blowing when they get to the top of the hill via the regular walk.

On Sept. 26, Mrs. Clifford held a reception at her home in honor of her daughter, Hilda, whose marriage took place a few days previously, and who has left Coleman, after five years residence to live in Edmonton. Mrs. Rippon and Mrs.
Pattinson assisted in receiving the guests, and Miss Edith Haysom and Miss May Powell served. The rooms were decorated with pink and white asters. Many friends called between 4 and 7 p. m., to bid farewell to Mrs. H. Gardener.

Returning recently from Nova Scotia, where she had been visiting her old home, Mrs. J. A. McDonald brought with her an interesting relief in the shape of a souvenir book on Coleman published in 1910. It contains many photographs of residents and business men of those days, several of whom are still here, though their young appearance of those days has undergone a change.

No doubt they are much wiser.
